THAT PUTS ALL THE RESOURCES OF ALGONQUIN COLLEGE AT YOUR SERVICE.

Transform your workforce.

Today, corporate training is about much more than employees learning to use a new product or gaining a new certification.

It's about how employers can meet the challenges of demographic and marketplace changes. Improving productivity and morale while reducing turnover. Helping your staff improve and extend their skills and abilities – so that your organization can take advantage of new opportunities and open new markets.

It's about transforming your workforce. And this is where it starts.

Algonquin College Corporate Training

Algonquin College Corporate Training is the largest corporate training supplier in the National Capital Region. For over 42 years, we have been the proven leader in providing corporate learning solutions to private and public sector clients.

We work in an integrated way with Algonquin College as a whole, leveraging our sector expertise, programs, courses, facilities and diverse network of industry-specific experts to deliver customized, practical, transformative training that helps you meet and exceed your goals.

The Corporate Training Centre

The Algonquin College Corporate Training Centre integrates all of Algonquin College's resources – those on-site as well as those in our sector-specific facilities – to provide comprehensive, customized, practical learning for both the private and public sectors.

Our central, downtown location makes coordination of corporate training easy. But our dedication to customized course design and delivery makes it even easier.

YOUR TEAM'S TRAINING IS RELEVANT TO YOUR IMMEDIATE NEEDS – AND IS IMMEDIATELY APPLICABLE.

Your training. On your terms.

With Algonquin College Corporate Training, your team can learn off-site, on-site, hands-on or online. Or we can help you to create the learning blend that works best for you.

Practical training. Just in time.

Algonquin College Corporate Training is designed to be sector- and client-specific. That means your team's training is relevant to your immediate needs – and is immediately applicable.

Our delivery model – using just-in-time training and workshops – respects your timelines and responds agilely to the constantly evolving needs of your organization and your industry.

Customized, client-focused training

Access all the resources and expertise of Algonquin College's four faculties and eight schools. Give your team a complete, customized, practical learning experience.

Algonquin College Corporate Training courses and workshops are developed and delivered to meet specific client requirements. Your team can learn in the way that suits it best, and focus on technical or business skills, or a combination of both.

Training can be tailored to achieve industry certification, compliance requirements or college accreditation, or to meet your organizational ladder goals.

Be recognized.

Achieve industry certification. Meet compliance requirements. Gain college accreditation. Prepare for tomorrow. Algonquin College Corporate Training is recognized where it counts.

We can help you work toward a specific certificate or fulfill an immediate need. We can also help you plan a long-term strategy to move individuals – or an entire team – up the accreditation ladder.
